STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
March 31st, 1915.

To the Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 162 without my approval.

I disapprove the bill because it would permit the location of a garbage and sewage disposal plant by one municipality, within the corporate limits of another municipality without the consent of the latter. This bill as introduced provided that such consent be obtained, but somewhere in the course of its progress such proviso was stricken out. I see no need for this legislation, the subject being already covered by chapter 97 of the laws of 1909, which requires the consent of a municipality and its board of health and in case such consent cannot be obtained, giving an appeal to the State Board of Health, which may grant such permission.

Respectfully,

JAMES F. FIELDER,

(Seal) Governor.

Secretary to the Governor.

A message was received from the Governor, by the hands of Mr. Herrmann, his Secretary, which was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly: April 5th, 1915.

Permit me to address you in favor of the concurrent resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution for the election of Assemblymen by districts, which has been pending before you since its passage by the Senate February ninth last and which I am satisfied appeals favorably to the people generally. At least there can be no doubt in your minds that a large number want it and you should be willing to give them an opportunity to vote on it. If you do not do so this year, you deliberately postpone action for five years to come. I believe in Assembly districts, because they will assure to those counties having more than one Assemblyman, representation from different parts of the county and will greatly help in the selection of representatives on their merits. I have examined the party platforms for the purpose of learning what pledges were made on this subject just before election when votes were sought, and I have gone back as far as 1907, in which year both the Democratic and Republican parties unequivocally recorded themselves in favor of the amendment. In various platforms since that time, the same pledge will be found, and yet it has not been fulfilled. As late as 1913 the Republican party again promised to submit the amendment to the people and in 1914 the Democratic party did the same. In view of these explicit declarations made many times by both parties, it seems strange that the promises have not been redeemed before this, and I venture to suggest most earnestly that it ought to be time to quit fooling the people and give them what has been assured to them.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

Attest:
L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

On motion of Mr. Runyon, the Governor's message was ordered spread in full upon the Minutes.

The following messages were received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and were read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: April 5th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 166 without my approval.

This bill proposes that the State shall contribute the sum of $10,000 toward the erection of a monument in the city of Passaic to commemorate the retreat of Washington across New Jersey over a bridge spanning the Passaic river and to perpetuate the memory of Passaic city soldiers and sailors who served in the wars of this country. I am aware that it does not specifically appropriate the money and that the Legislature may not this year vote any appropriation for the purpose, but if it finds a place among our laws, it will next year or the year after be urged, with strong reason, that those interested in the monument have waited sufficiently long for the Legislature to redeem the pledge which the passage of this bill carries with it. Each year we have difficulty in finding sufficient funds for the enlargement of our State institutions, for the erection of new buildings to care for our sick, infirm, defective and criminal classes and for the ordinary purposes of government, and until we are in funds for these most pressing necessities, I feel we should get along without erecting monuments. In any event, I think this bill should not pass until the money proposed to be expended is in sight and perhaps, too, the event and persons could be commemorated by a tablet on the bridge in question, or in some other suitable but less expensive way.

While on this subject, may I be permitted to direct your minds to the thought that the memory of famous Jerseymen and of important sites might better be perpetuated by the erection of something useful rather than by a monument which is only ornamental. A comfort station, a rest pavilion, a drinking fountain, a small playground, or a memorial bridge at this particular spot would pay the tribute to which our brave soldier and sailor dead are entitled and at the same time provide something of benefit to the living.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] JAMES F. FIELDER,

Attest: Governor.

L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

To the House of Assembly: April 5th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill 489 without my approval.

Under this bill a police officer on reaching fifty years of age and serving honorably for twenty years may, upon his application, be retired on half pay. If after twenty years' service he is dismissed for cause, he may claim half pay, although not fifty years old.

The result of such a law would be this: Two men, each forty-five years old, have served on the same police force for twenty years. One is found guilty on charges of a serious nature and is dismissed from the force, but upon filing an application for retirement, he is entitled to half pay. The other, because no charges are pereferred against him and his service is honorable, must continue to serve five years longer, or until he is fifty years old, before he can have the same right as the officer who was dismissed, to retire on half pay.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] JAMES F. FIELDER,

Attest: Governor.

L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the House of Assembly: April 5th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill 517 without my approval.

It is carelessly drawn. In its title it speaks of a teacher and in the body it provides for an instructor for the inmates of county jails, but it fails to disclose what the prisoners are to be taught or instructed. As commitments to county jails are from thirty to ninety days and the ages of those committed run from twenty-one to sixty years, I cannot understand of what advantage an instructor is expected to be.

Respectfully,

[SEAL] JAMES F. FIELDER,

Attest: Governor.

L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

Agnew, Edgar A. De Yoe, or John J. Johnson to be seated in the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey for the year 1915:

NEW JERSEY HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

In the Matter of the Contest by Jason R. Elliott of the Right of Arthur M. Agnew, Edgar A. De Yoe, or John J. Johnson to be Seated in the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey for the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Fifteen.

Report of Election Committee.

To the General Assembly of New Jersey:

The Committee on Elections of the House of Assembly respectfully reports that by resolution passed on the twelfth day of January, nineteen hundred and fifteen, this committee was directed to "with all convenient speed proceed to investigate the election contest of Jason R. Elliott against Arthur M. Agnew, Edgar A. De Yoe and John J. Johnson, and to that end take testimony thereon and report thereupon to the House of Assembly."

Pursuant to the above resolution, this committee duly organized and appointed as its counsel, Harvey S. Carr, Esq.,; as stenographic clerk, Sidney J. Turner; as clerk and sergeant-at-arms, Herbert F. Freeman, and conducted a series of hearings of which all parties in interest had notice, and at which Messrs. Elliott, Agnew, De Yoe and Johnson were represented by counsel. Hearings were held at Trenton on the following dates: January 26th, February 2d, 5th, 9th, March 1st, 5th, and at Hackensack, on March 19th.

This committee subpœnaed the entire County Board of Elections of Bergen County, consisting of Charles Van Gelder, William Umbach, Jr., Alfred H. Hale and Ackerman Hawkey, as well as Miss Helen Breen, the stenographer of the said board. The election board assisted in the physical work of the count and examination of the ballots. Messrs. Van Gelder and Hale and Miss Breen attended each and every hearing, and Messrs. Umbach and Hawkey attended some but not all of the hearings, for which they should receive compensation from the State.

The testimony of all witnesses was taken under oath and reported stenographically; a stenographic transcript thereof is annexed to and made a part of this report.

The subject of investigation was the ballots in the following sixty-two election districts out of one hundred and fifteen election districts in Bergen county:

Bergenfields, first district; Bergenfields, second district; Bogota; Carlstadt, first district; Carlstadt, second district; Carlstadt, third district; Cliffside Park, first district; Cliffside Park, second district; Closter; Delford; Demarest; East Rutherford, first district; Emerson; Englewood, third ward, second district; Englewood, fourth ward, second district; Fairview, first district; Fairview, second district; Fort Lee, first district; Fort Lee, second; Fort Lee, third, and Fort Lee, fourth; Harrington Park; Harrington Township; Haworth; Little Ferry; Lodi Borough, first; Lodi Borough, second; Lodi Township; Maywood; Montvale; Midland Township; Moonachie; New Barbadoes, first ward, first district; New Barbadoes, first ward, second district; New Barbadoes, first ward, third district; New Barbadoes, second word, first district; New Barbadoes, second ward, second district; New Barbadoes, third ward, first district; Norwood; Old Tappan; Orvil Township; Overpeck, first district; second district, third district and fourth district; Palisades Township; Palisades Park; Ramsey, first and second districts; Ridgefield; Riverdale; Teaneck, first district; Teaneck, second district; Union Township, first, second and third districts; Upper Saddle River; Wallington, first and second districts; Westwood, first and second districts.

These sixty-two districts were chosen because they had been the subject of a recount on the vote for candidates for Congress and such recount had developed the fact that a total of eleven hundred and ninety-four (1194) ballots had been rejected, and it therefore became of importance to ascertain how the rejected ballots affected the vote for Assemblymen.

This recount developed two classes of defective ballots: (1) those that were rejected as marked ballots and therefore wholly void as to all candidates, and (2) those that were rejected solely because an excessive number of candidates for Congress had been voted for, and were therefore good as to the ballots of the candidates.

The Committee scrutinized carefully every ballot that had been rejected in said recount, and where wholly void as a marked ballot, rejected the same, and where rejected in the recount proceedings solely because of the excessive number of Congressional candidates voted for, accepted said ballots for the Assembly candidates.

Where ballots were rejected, the totals were deducted from the official election returns for members of Assembly, and the following results were thus produced:

OFFICIAL RETURNS.		Ballots rejected.	Total vote as modified by rejected ballots.
Arthur M. Agnew,	9486	462	9024
Edgar A. De Yoe,	9405	435	8970
John J. Johnson,	9324	438	8886
Jason R. Elliott,	9234	257	8977
Elliott's plurality,			91

Section 115 of "An act to regulate elections" (Revision of 1898), provides that certified copies of the statement of the determination of the County Board of Canvassers shall be deemed and taken to be prima facie evidence of the right of the persons therein mentioned to seats in the houses, respectively, to which they shall have been so determined to be elected."

The Constitution of New Jersey provides that "Each House shall be the judge of the election, returns and qualifications of its own members." Article 4, Sec. 4, Par. 1.

Where a recount is ordered by a Justice of the Supreme Court under section 159 of an act entitled "An act to regulate elections" (Revision of 1898), the justice may order "a recount of the whole or such part of the votes as he may determine."

As the counting of the ballots of the remaining 53 districts of Bergen County would be impossible before the adjournment of the Legislature and as the effect of such delay would be to wholly deprive Mr. Elliott of a seat to which he is apparently entitled on the face of the returns as modified, the committee has concluded that the House would be justified in adopting as prima facie evidence the certificates of the County Board of Canvassers as to the balance of the districts in Bergen County. Such a course is sanctioned by the law and practice in recount proceedings and appears to be essential in order to do substantial justice. It does not appear to the committee that it would be justified in a wholly fruitless re-examination of all the ballots, upon the conjecture that the result might be thereby modified. Certain it is that the session would be at an end before such re-examination could be completed.

We, therefore, report the above facts to the House for such action as it may deem proper in the premises.

Respectfully submitted,

NEW JERSEY HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

In the Matter of the Contest by Jason R. Elliott of the Right of Arthur M. Agnew, Edgar A. De Yoe or John J. Johnson to be Seated in the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey for the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Fifteen.	Supplemental Report of Committee on Elections.

To the House of General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

Your Standing Committee on Elections, to whom was referred the matter of the election of Jason R. Elliott against Arthur M. Agnew et al., desires to report, in addition to its report dealing with the specific question of which persons were elected as members of the General Assembly from Bergen county at the general election held in November, nineteen hundred and fourteen, as follows:

Your committee had a peculiar opportunity to observe the practical workings of the election laws now in force, with particular reference to the manner in which the present form of ballot was used by the ordinary voter.

The objects sought to be attained through the use of the present form of ballot are the following:

(1) A secret ballot, incapable of identification, so as to render it impossible for election officers and others interested to determine how the voter had voted.

(2) By the elimination of the party column to force the voter to the use of discounting judgment and thus to facilitate independent voting.

In order to prevent the identification of ballots, section 58 of the election laws (Revision of 1898), provides as follows: "If any ballot voted at any election shall have thereon, either on its face or back, any mark, sign, designation or device whatsoever, other than is provided by this act whereby such ballot can or may be identified or distinguished from other ballots voted at such election, such ballot shall be absolutely void, and shall not be counted for any candidate nominated thereon".

While the objects sought to be attained are commendable, the question naturally arises, Are the methods provided by the statute designed to produce the desired result, without disfranchising the average voter?

The experience of your committee compels it to answer this question in the negative.

In the recent Bergen county investigation there were a total of eleven hundred and ninety-four (1,194) rejected ballots in sixty-two (62) districts out of a total vote of 12,816 in those districts, or approximately ten per centum of the voters were actually disfranchised in the practical operation of the law. In the election for Governor in the year 1913, there was a total of 375,312 ballots cast. If the percentage of defective ballots shown in Bergen county prevails throughout the State, then there would have been disfranchised upon a proper construction of the law over 37,000 voters, a total in excess of the plurality of the successful candidate.

The committee is satisfied that a great majority of the ballots were not intended by the voters to be marked ballots, but application of the statutory rule to the particular ballot compelled the legal rejection of the ballots because they were capable of identification.

The great number of candidates and the fact that a cross mark was required in front of the name of each person voted for seemed to cause a great deal of confusion on the part of the voter. There were numerous instances of where the voter ha. apparently by inadvertence placed the cross mark in front of the name of a candidate for whom he did not wish to vote and then an apparent attempt to remedy the error, either by an erasure or by obliterating the original mark by additional pencil marks.

Another cause of trouble was with the "×" mark, many voters using a plus (+) mark instead.

Still another instance was where a voter had made the initial mark or stroke of the "×" and then discovering that it was in the wrong place, failed to complete it.

Another source of difficulty was where the voter, in order to make the cross perfectly legible, would go over it two or three times and thus produce several extra marks. Some even went to the trouble of making a letter "X" in the form "X" as shown on the sample ballots. Some of the "X's" were written opposite a blank space on the ballot.

Many extra markings were probably due to the slipping of the pencil when the voter was scanning the long list of candidates, for a safe and proper place to locate the next cross.

Another peculiarity of a considerable number of ballots was the fact that where two different candidates of the same surnames were running for the same office but as candidates of different political parties the voter voted for both—evidently uncertain as to their identity, and in order to make sure that at least one of the desired candidates had received his vote.

The present plan contains many pit-falls for the unwary, but for the purchasable and corrupt voter the law provides a wholly legal and positive means of identification of the ballot cast by permitting the voter to write his own or any other name he may wish in a blank space under any office.

Section 59 of the election act provides "nothing in this act contained shall prevent any voter from writing or pasting thereon the name of any person or persons for whom he desires to vote for any office or offices" (Revision of Laws of 1898).

In view of the other provisions of the act rigidly guarding against the identification of the ballot the privilege granted by the fifty-ninth section would move a mummy to mirth. Why plug up the pin holes and leave the bung open?

Experience demonstrates that no useful purpose is served by the fifty-ninth section. If a candidate is unable to get the required number of petitioners, he can't hope to be elected.

The privilege above given has not affected the result of any election so far as the committee can discover, except for a few minor officials, such as constables, justices of the peace, etc.

We, therefore, recommend, that the fifty-ninth section be repealed and that no voter be permitted to write his own or any other name on a ballot.

We believe that the ballot should be simplified, so that disfranchisement through error would be reduced to a minimum, and to this end we recommend the restoration of the party square so that those desiring to vote a straight ticket may do so by a single × mark. Opportunity should also be given to the independent voter to vote for any such candidate. But the attempt to make independent voting compulsory has not only failed in practice, but has unwarrantly disfranchised many thousands of voters. The fewer marks the voter is required to make, the less chance of error and consequent disfranchisement.

We also recommend that the voter may mark his ballot either with an "×" or a plus + mark.

It is probably a fact that election boards accept as legal many ballots that upon a recount would be rejected and that thus the percentage of actually rejected ballots is small. Yet if such ballots are in fact void as marked ballots, they would be rejected upon a recount, and, when the results are close the votes would be lost.

Another matter to which we call attention is the fact that soft pine boards, in the rough, are provided in the voting booths, and ballots become mutilated or the cross mark becomes so irregular by a slip of the pencil that there is danger of the ballot being rejected as a marked ballot. We recommend that some hard smooth surface be provided to place upon or cover the shelves of each voting booth so that this difficulty may be obviated.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
March 29th, 1915.

To the Senate:

I return herewith Senate Bill No. 174, without my approval.

After the hearing held on this bill and a careful consideration of the arguments presented, I am not convinced that our law permitting the establishment of branch banks works to the disadvantage of the people of our State. In no place where they have been tried, have they been shown to be injurious to the community and I think the law should be given a further trial. As far as I can observe, the objection to the law comes mainly from the national banks and from those trust companies which would naturally prefer no business opposition, but I have heard no objection from the business man who seeks the greatest freedom for banking facilities. It seems to me that he is the one to be considered and surely branch banking provides more funds for discount purposes; it means the establishment of branches in small communities where an independent bank might not be a paying enterprise and it means larger experience in banking management, thus minimizing the danger of bank failures. It must be borne in mind that no branch bank can be established without the consent of the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance and, where business conditions do not warrant it, no branch can be located, so that there is but slight danger of a branch bank in unnecessary competition with another banking institution. Looking at this question from the standpoint of the investor, the depositor, the borrower and the general business man, the argument, in my opinion, is wholly in favor of permitting the present law to remain in force.

Respectfully,

[SEAL.] JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

Attest:
L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

On motion of Mr. Wolverton the message was ordered spread in full upon the Minutes, and the bill laid over.

NEW YORK, March 6th, 1915.

Senator W. W. Smalley, Chairman Committee to Investigate the Financial Condition of the State of New Jersey, State House, Trenton, N. J.:

DEAR SIR—We have pleasure in submitting the following report upon our examination of the annual financial reports of the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of New Jersey, and his estimate of the financial operations for the current fiscal year. As a part of the report, we attach the following exhibits and schedules:

Exhibits:

A—Estimated Revenues and Expenditures of the State Fund on General Account, Year Ending October 31st, 1915.

B—Differences between Estimated and Actual Results for the Fiscal Year Ending October 31st, 1914.

Schedules:

1—Comparison of Expenditures on General State Account by Annual and Quadrennial Periods from 1903 to 1914.

2—Comparison of Estimated and Realized Receipts Applicable to General State Account from 1909 to 1914.

Exhibit A—Estimated Revenues and Expenditures of the State Fund on General Account, Year Ending October 31st, 1915.

The statements and estimates of the Comptroller of the Treasuray submitted to the Legislature February 1st, 1915, pursuant to Joint Resolution No. 8, Laws of 1909, have been used as a basis for the preparation of the above exhibit. The principles upon which revenues and expenditures were computed by the Comptroller were analyzed and the correctness of the calculations verified, and unless the variations disclosed were material, the amounts included in the statements and estimates were incorporated in our exhibit without change.

Expenditures.

The point wherein the revised estimate herewith submitted varies most widely from that contained in the statements and estimates is in connection with the estimated expenditures. Among the obligations included in the statements and estimates appear—

Appropriations currently payable, ...	$7,634,413 60
Supplemental appropriations requested, ...	1,436,739 94
Total, ...	$9,071,153 54
While the Estimated expenditures per Exhibit A amount to	7,683,500 86
Or a difference of, ...	$1,387,652 68

It should not be understood, however, that the entire amount of this difference is the result of overestimation of expenditures by the Comptroller. The item of supplemental appropriations, appearing in the statements and estimates, is clearly qualified and we think is intended for inclusion among the obligations in a tentative sense only and in order to show the possible obligations that may have to be met. One reason for the inclusion of this amount may arise from the Comptroller's natural desire to impress the Legislature with the importance of the possible effect of supplemental appropriations upon the Treasury balance, and beyond denial the matter deserves emphasis.

Nevertheless, the method of estimating expenditures or required revenues as followed by the Comptroller, is based on appropriations. Where appropriations are made upon the basis of a carefully prepared budget, there should not be any great discrepancy between the total amount of the appropriations and the total expenditures. The appropriation policy followed, however, in your State for many years has led to the granting of appropriations in amounts largely in excess of the apparent requirements. Thus, during the last fiscal year supplemental appropriations were requested in amounts aggregating $900,000.00 more than was granted, but the appropriations actually made were ultimately found to be some $500,000.00 in excess of the requirements as determined by the expenditures charged against them, and so the estimate requested for the year as submitted to the Legislature proved to be approximately $1,500,000.00 greater than the amount of the actual expenditures for the year.

Owing to the state of the treasury, it is now necessary to confine the appropriations within the limits of the actual requirements and, therefore, it is essential, in estimating the requirements, to adopt a basis more nearly accurate than has been followed in past years.

In estimating in advance the expenditures which will have to be incurred during a fiscal period, it is fair to allow for a normal increase arising out of the development and growth in the commonwealth. As an indication of the increases during past years, reference to Schedule 1 discloses the following:

Period.	Average Yearly Increase.
1903 to 1906— 4 years, ...	$335,381 98
1907 to 1910— 4 years, ...	120,278 24
1911 to 1914— 4 years, ...	588,182 58
1903 to 1910— 8 years, ...	227,829 98
1903 to 1914—12 years, ...	347,947 51
In revising the estimate submitted the expenditures of the fiscal year 1914 may be taken as a starting point. These amounted to, ...	$7,095,318 28

To this sum must be added an allowance to provide for the normal increase to be anticipated for the current year. For present purposes this allowance may, we think, be taken as an amount equal to the average yearly increase during the four years preceding 1915, or, ...	588,182 58
Making a revised estimate of the probable total expenditures for the current year of, ...	$7,683,500 86

The annual expenditures for past years shown on Schedule 1 have been arrived at by deducting from the total disbursements all items which could be identified from the information available as other than belonging to general State account: such as payment of railroad taxes to counties, etc., and by making the necessary adjustments in respect of the reported obligations at the beginning and end of each year. In determining the probable increase in the current year, the average of the last period has been taken for the reason that the rate of increase was higher in that period than in the earlier ones and should, therefore, afford a reasonably safe and conservative basis.

Receipts.

Schedule 2 indicates that with a few exceptions the annual estimates of receipts have been based upon the receipts of the year prior, less the odd thousands, and sometimes less an additional amount where the increase in the preceding year had been unusual in character. This method, while simple, is not conducive to close approximations. Moreover, there are certain normal increases that may reasonably be anticipated in revenues as well as in expenditures, such as naturally arise as a result of the growth of the State in population, industry and commerce.

In estimating the receipts of revenue, we have attempted to consider all of the more important factors which might effect an increase or a reduction in the items during the coming year, and our estimates have in the cases of all of the larger items been concurred in by a representative of the department affected.

In estimating the receipts the following may serve to illustrate the method we have followed:

The taxes collected from miscellaneous corporations, except a practically negligible amount, comes from life insurance companies which are taxed upon surplus and premiums, and from other companies taxed upon capital stock. The Prudential Life

Insurance Company and the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company pay almost the entire amount collected from life insurance companies. With the assistance of the Department of Banking and Insurance we secured from the financial statements of the above named insurance companies the amounts upon which they will be taxable in 1915 and calculated the increase in revenues from this source. As the life insurance companies in question always pay their taxes, it follows that the tax collections from other companies can be arrived at by deducting the assessments on life insurance companies from the total collections. This was done for the period from 1909 to 1914, and disclosed a decrease of $82,000.00, or an average of $16,400.00 a year in collections from companies other than life insurance companies during the period. Upon investigation at the office of the Secretary of State, we found that during the portion of the current year already past the records of cases of corporations reducing their capitalization or dissolving showed a considerable increase over prior years, while the number of new incorporations and of increase in capitalization was considerably under normal. The resulting loss from this source was estimated at $50,000.00, which amount was considered as sufficient to provide also for reductions in the increase in the life insurance tax due to sundry increases in the collections from foreign companies.

With the figures available we were able to arrive at the following:

Collections during year ending October 31, 1914,		$2,631,639 88
Add—
Increase in tax on life insurance companies,. ..		134,085 00
		$2,765,724 88
Deduct—
Average decrease during past five years in taxes on companies other than life, ...	$16,400 00
Estimated decrease on account of abnormal dissolutions, etc. (say), ...	49,324 88
		65,724 88
		$2,700,000 00

A method similar to this was followed with all of the more important items.

The estimated amount by which the revenues for the year appear to be insufficient to meet the probable expenditures will be increased, of course, by the amount of the deficit at the beginning of the year. This amount which is arrived at by applying the treasury balance available for State uses against the obligations existing will be increased by reason of the following adjustments:

Unexpended balances of appropriations of 1913 and prior on public roads account applicable to existing contracts not included in "Amounts available upon contracts", ...	$87,374 78
Less—Balance of Smith-Lever Agricultural Extension Fund included among obligations and requisitions, but excluded from treasury balance available for State uses, ...	4,221 92
	$83,152 86

Although the annual appropriation bill for 1915 was greater by $800,000.00 than the 1914 bill, supplemental appropriations aggregating $1,436,739.94 have been requested and, we understand, it seems doubtful if it will be practicable to reduce the appropriations below $700,000.00. Should supplemental appropriations of that amount be granted and the total appropriations expended, the expenditure will equal the amount of the annual appropriation bill, ...	$7,634,413 60

plus the supplemental bill (say), ...	700,000 00
	$8,334,413 60
instead of the estimate herein of	7,683,500 86
and the estimated deficit consequently increased by	$650,912 74
Adding to this the estimate made herein of.....	784,438 10
would indicate, under the conditions first stated, a deficit of.....	$1,435,350 84

It should, of course, be borne in mind that the deficit at the end of the year must depend upon the realization of the estimated revenues and upon the expenditure of the appropriation. The granting alone of appropriations will not necessarily result in a deficit although it might indirectly by inducing extravagance if too generous grants are made.

After allowing for excessive appropriations already made or to be made, it seems probable that the current year will show an excess of expenditures over revenues of probably $1,000,000.00, or possibly even something more. The suggestion has been made that this shortage might be provided for by means of a State tax. The total valuation of real and personal property as reported in the report of the Comptroller for the year 1914 is $2,481,605,038.61. A tax of one-tenth of a mill per dollar, or of one point in the tax rate upon this amount, would yield $248,160.50, and a tax of one-half of a mill per dollar, or of five points in the tax rate would yield $1,240,802.52.

Before adopting this method of financing the anticipated deficit, the legal aspects of the matter and the methods of assessing and collecting the tax should be thoroughly considered. At the present time the expenditures on general account are approximately $650,000.00 per month, and if this rate is maintained during the coming months the treasury funds will be exhausted well before October 31, 1915, the end of the fiscal year. Some source of revenue is required, therefore, that can be made available before the close of the fiscal year and unfortunately there seems to be some question as to whether, under present conditions relating to the assessment and collection of taxes in New Jersey, it would be practicable to secure collections from a State tax before December 20, 1915.

Exhibit B—Differences Between Estimated and Actual Results for the Fiscal Year Ending October 31st, 1914.

In your instructions to us, we were requested to investigate and report upon the estimates of the past few fiscal years and accordingly the differences between the estimates and the expenditures of each year from 1910 to 1914, inclusive, are disclosed by the following comparative statements:

Year.	Surplus or deficit estimated by Comptroller.	Actual surplus or deficit.	Differences.
1910, ...	$670,362 11	$1,609,043 80	$938,681 69
1911, ...	149,669 98	1,245,574 69	1,095,904 71
1912, ...	384,629 27	1,477,613 74	1,862,243 01
1913, ...	773,516 72	349,344 67	1,122,861 39
1914, ...	2,326,792 70	160,654 38	2,226,144 32

We made an analysis of the causes of the differences shown above and found that they could be allocated to four general causes:

1. Supplemental appropriations requested but not granted, which amount to, ...	$918,645 52
This difference is attributable to the methods used by the State officials in preparing appropriation requests rather than to any oversight or failure upon the part of the Comptroller.
2. Excess of actual over estimated receipts, ...	595,060 70
3. Excess of estimated railroad tax payable to Counties for schools over actual amount,	142,967 19
4. Appropriation unexpended and sundry differences, ...	569,470 91
Total, ...	$2,226,144 32

The large variation between the estimated and actual receipts during the year is accounted for in part by the fact that the 1914 Legislature amended the transfer tax laws, thereby increasing the revenues from this source by some $365,000.00. The largest remaining variation is found in the matter of unexpended appropriations, which were found to be largely in excess of the requirements of the State, as shown by the actual expenditures for the year. This again appears to be a fault of the appropriation methods which require the granting of appropriations too far in advance of the period in which the relative expenditures are to be incurred, and to the lack of adequate preparation of budget information.

We shall, of course, be very glad to respond to any requests you may make for further information upon any matters connected with out examination.

Yours very truly,

PRICE, WATERHOUSE & Co.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
April 12th, 1915.

To the House of Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 761 without my approval.

My objections to the bill are as follows:

1. It permits counties to take over roads in cities under five thousand population without the consent of the municipality and casts upon the county the burden of caring for a city street. If the county does not properly care for it, the city has no right to do so.

2. It increases the amount which the counties may raise for such purpose four hundred per cent.

3. It fixes the amount to be raised by a percentage of county ratables, a practice which I condemned in my message to you on the opening day of this session.

Respectfully,

JAMES F. FIELDER,

Governor.

Attest:

L. EDWARD HERRMANN,

The amounts assessed shall be a first and paramount lien on each parcel so benefited; and said council, or other governing body of such city, shall have power and authority to cause so much of the cost aforesaid as represents the special and peculiar benefit conferred to be assessed upon the lands and real estate benefited by such improvement, in accordance with the terms hereof, and as soon as may be after the conclusion of the improvement or work, the expense thereof and a moderate allowance, to be determined by the council or other governing body, for the cost of making the assessment aforesaid, shall be ascertained by such council or other governing body, and entered, by resolution, upon the record of its proceedings, and the amount so ascertained and determined shall thereafter be treated as and held to be the true and actual expense of making such improvement, and a copy of said resolution, attested by the clerk, shall be delivered by him to the commissions of assessment appointed as hereinafter provided. A brief description of the improvement, the cost of which is to be assessed, shall be included in the notice, so as to sufficiently identify the same. The commissioners of assessment shall attend at the time and place appointed; two of them shall be a quorum in the transaction of business and sufficient to make any assessment, and sign a report thereof, but one member shall have power to adjourn any meeting at which a quorum is not present. The commissioners may adjourn from time to time; they shall give all parties interested in or affected by the improvement ample opportunity to be heard upon the subject of the assessment; they shall view the premises and have power to examine witnesses under oath or affirmation, administered by any one of them; they shall thereupon make a just and equitable assessment of the cost of the improvement or such part of said cost as they shall deem proper, upon the real estate in said city, which in the judgment of the commissioners will be specially benefited by the said improvement, in proportion to the benefit received, and no lot or parcel of land shall be assessed for more than it is so specially benefited. The commissioners shall have power to determine what portion, if any, of the cost of said improvement shall be paid by the city at large. The commissioners shall make a map showing each lot or parcel of land assessed, designating the same thereon by a number, and shall annex to their report a schedule setting forth each lot or parcel of land assessed, the name of the owner or owners thereof, if the same can be ascertained, and the amount of the assessment thereon; the commissioners shall present their report, schedule and map to the said court; and the said court shall thereupon cause such notice to be given as it shall direct, of the time and place when and where it will meet to consider any objections that may be made to the assessment, and after hearing any matter which may be alleged against the same, the said court shall, by rule or order, either confirm the said report or refer the same to the same commissioners for revision and correction; and the said commissioners shall return the same when referred to them again, corrrected and revised, or make new report thereof to the said court without unnecessary delay; and the same on being so returned, shall be confirmed or again referred by the said court in manner aforesaid as right and justice may require, and so from time to time until a report shall be made in the premises which the court shall confirm. Such report when so confirmed shall be filed in the office of the city clerk, there to remain of record. In case cost of the improvement paid by the city shall exceed the total amount assessed for special benefits, the excess shall be assessed upon and be borne and paid by the city at large, and the amount of such excess, if any, shall be specified by the commissioners in their report.

The said commissioners shall receive such compensation for the services rendered by them as the said court shall order and direct, not exceeding five dollars per day for each day's services rendered by them, and the same, and all the expenses incident to the assessment, shall be deemed a part of the expenses of such improvement and included in the cost thereof.

27. The assessment made pursuant to this act shall become payable on the confirmation of the commissioners' report as aforesaid, but the council, or other governing body, by resolution, may provide that the owner of any land, upon which any assessment of benefits for such improvements shall have been made, may pay such assessments in such equal yearly installments, not exceeding ten, with legal interest thereon, and at such time in each year as the said council, or other governing body, shall determine; provided, however, that any party assessed shall have the privilege of paying the whole of any assessment or balance of installments, with accrued interest thereon at one time; in case any such assessment or any installment thereof shall remain unpaid for thirty days from and after the time when the same shall have become due and payable, the whole assessment or the balance due thereon, shall become and be immediately due and payable, shall draw interest at the rate of one per centum per month, and shall be collected in the same manner as is provided by law for the collection of other unpaid taxes and assessments, it being expressly provided that the property upon which any such assessment is a lien may be sold in fee for the nonpayment of the assessment in case no one will purchase same for any less term; whenever any owner shall be given the privilege of paying any assessment in installments, such assessment shall remain a first and paramount lien upon the land described therein until the same, with all installments and accrued interest thereon, shall be paid and satisfied, and no proceedings to collect or enforce the same need be taken until default shall be made in the payment of any installment as above provided.

28. No proceeding to review or set aside the ordinance authorizing any improvement to be made pursuant to this act or to review, set aside or modify the report made by the commissioners aforesaid, shall be maintained unless the proceeding to review or set aside said ordinances, and the proceeding to review, set aside or modify the said report shall be commenced by application duly made therefor within thirty days from the time of the final passage of said ordinance or within thirty days from the confirmation of said report by the court as herein provided.

29. If, for any reason, any section or provision of this act shall be questioned in any court, and shall be held to be unconstitutional or invalid, no other section or provision of this act shall be affected thereby.

30. The powers conferred by this act shall be deemed to be in addition to and independent of any and all powers and authority conferred by and other law or laws, and not subject to any limitation contained in such law or laws. Such benefit shall be assessed against said lands in proportion to the benefit each parcel receives therefrom. The amounts assessed shall be a first and paramount lien on each parcel so benefitd; and said council, or other governing body of such city, shall have power and authority to cause so much of the cost aforesaid as represents the special and peculiar benefit conferred to be assessed upon the lands and real estate benefited by such improvement, in accordance with the terms hereof, and as soon as may be after the conclusion of the improvement or work, the expense thereof and a moderate allowance, to be determined by the council or other governing body, for the cost of making the assessment aforesaid, shall be ascertained by such council or other governing body, and entered, by resolution upon the record of its proceedings, and the amount so ascertained and determined shall thereafter be treated as and held to be the true and actual expense of making such improvement, and a copy of said resolution, attested by the clerk, shall be delivered by him to the commissions of assessment appointed as hereinafter provided. If bonds or certificates shall have been issued to pay for such improvements, all moneys received from the assessment of benefits shall be paid into the appropriate sinking fund, as above provided, to meet such bonds; provided, however, that the said council, or other governing body, shall have the power and authority, at its option, instead of paying the assessment of benefits, when received, into such sinking fund, to appropriate the same toward the redemption of any bonds or certificates which it may determine to redeem as herein provided.

After the ascertainment of the cost of making such improvement, and doing the said work, the council, or other governing body, shall, without notice, apply to the judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which such city is located for the appointment of three discreet persons, freeholders of the county in which such city is located, but who need not be residents of the city, to be commissioners to assess the special and peculiar benefits which have been conferred upon any real estate in said city by the said improvement. Such commissioners shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, make and file with the city clerk an oath or affirmation that they will faithfully and to the best of their skill and ability perform the duties imposed upon them by law. The commissioners shall appoint a time and place of meeting for hearing the parties interested and the clerk shall forthwith give public notice of the time and place of such meeting, by posting notices at five public places in the city two weeks prior thereto, and by publishing same for at least two weeks, once a week, in a newspaper published in the county in which said city is located, and circulating in the city. A brief description of the improvement, the cost of which is to be assessed, shall be included in the notice, so as to sufficiently identify the same. The commissioners of assessment shall attend at the time and place appointed; two of them shall be a quorum in the transaction of business and sufficient to make any assessment, and sign a report thereof, but one member shall have power to adjourn any meeting at which a quorum is not present. The commissioners may adjourn from time to time; they shall give all parties interested in or affected by the improvement ample opportunity to be heard upon the subject of the assessment; they shall view the premises and have power to examine witnesses under oath or affirmation, administered by any one of them; they shall thereupon make a just and equitable assessment of the cost of the improvement or such part of said cost as they shall deem proper, upon the real estate in said city, which in the judgment of the commissioners will be specially benefited by the said improvement, in proportion to the benefit received, and no lot or parcel of land shall be assessed for more than it is so specially benefited. The commissioners shall have power to determine what portion, if any, of the cost of said improvement shall be paid by the city at large. The commissioners shall make a map showing each lot or parcel of land assessed, designating the same thereon by a number, and shall annex to their report a schedule setting forth each lot or parcel of land assessed, the name of the owner or owners thereof, if the same can be ascertained, and the amount of the assessment thereon; the commissioners shall present their report, schedule and map to the said court; and the said court shall thereupon cause such notice to be given as it shall direct, of the time and place when and where it will meet to consider any objections that may be made to the assessment, and after hearing any matter which may be alleged against the same, the said court shall, by rule or order, either confirm the said report or refer the same to the same commissioners for revision and correction; and the said commissioners shall return the same when referred to them again, corrected and revised, or make new report thereof to the said court without unecessary delay; and the same on being so returned, shall be confirmed or again referred by the said court in manner aforesaid as right and justice may require, and so from time to time until a report shall be made in the premises which the court shall confirm. Such report when so confirmed shall be filed in the office of the city clerk, there to remain of record. In case cost of the improvement paid by the city shall exceed the total amount assessed for special benefits, the excess shall be assessed upon and be borne and paid by the city at large, and the amount of such excess, if any, shall be specified by the commissioners in their report.

The said commissioners shall receive such compensation for the services rendered by them as the said court shall order and direct, not exceeding five dollars per day for each day's services rendered by them, and the same, and all expenses incident to the assessment, shall be deemed a part of the expenses of such improvement and included in the cost thereof.

26. The assessment made pursuant to this act shall become payable on the confirmation of the commissioners' report as aforesaid, but the council, or other governing body, by resolution, may provide that the owner of any land, upon which any assessment of benefits for such improvements shall have been made, may pay such assessments in such equal yearly installments, not exceeding ten, with legal interest thereon, and at such time in each year as the said council, or other governing body, shall determine; provided, however, that any party assessed shall have the privilege of paying the whole of any assessment or balance of installments, with accrued interest thereon at one time; in case any such assessment or any installment thereof shall remain unpaid for thirty days from and after the time when the same shall have become due and payable, the whole assessment or balance due thereon, shall become and be immediately due and payable, shall draw interest at the rate of one per centum per month, and shall be collected in the same maner as is provided by law for the collection of other unpaid taxes and assessments, it being expressly provided that the property upon which any such assessment is a lien may be sold in fee for the nonpayment of the assessment in case no one will purchase same for any less term; whenever any owner shall be given the privilege of paying any assessment in installments, such assessment shall remain a first and paramount lien upon the land decribed therein until the same, with all installments and accrued interest thereon, shall be paid and satisfied, and no proceedings to collect and enforce the same need be taken until default shall be made in the payment of any installment as above provided.

27. No proceeding to review or set aside the ordinance authorizing any improvement to be made pursuant to this act or to review, set aside or modify the report made by the commissioners aforesaid, shall be maintained unless the proceeding to review or set aside said ordinances, and the proceeding to review, set aside or modify the said report shall be commenced by application duly made therefor within thirty days from the time of the final passage of said ordinance or within thirty days from the confirmation of said report by the court as herein provided.

28. If, for any reason, any section or provision of this act shall be questioned in any court, and shall be held to be unconstitutional or invalid, no other section or provision of this act shall be affected thereby.

29. The powers conferred by this act shall be deemed to be in addition to and independent of any and all powers and authority conferred by any other law or laws, and not subject to any limitation contained in such law or laws. Bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act may be for any amount to be determined by the council, or other governing body, of such city, notwithstanding the provision of any prior act or acts limiting the percentage or amount of bonds to be issued by such city.

And bonds issued pursuant to the terms of this act shall not be considered nor computed as bonded indebtedness of any city as affecting the power or right of said city to borrow money for any other purpose.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: April 14th, 1915.

I beg leave to transmit herewith a further report of the Economy and Efficiency Commission on the subject of future investigations by such Commission.

Respectfully,
[SEAL.] JAMES F. FIELDER,

Attest:
L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

To the Governor and Legislature of the State of New Jersey:

On the occasion of the presentation of the third report of the Economy and Efficiency Commission, at the convening of the present Legislature, January 12th, 1915, your Commission advised that they would submit a further report during the present session, after learning the Legislature's attitude with the recommendations so far made.

The Legislature has passed in general form seven of the eight bills presented. Unfortunately the delay encountered in the enactment of our recommendations has necessarily postponed further activities until it is too late to present additional concrete proposals at his session. However, we are now ready to continue our investigations and prepare definite plans for the final completion of the responsibility assigned to us. In this connection we again call attention to that part of our last report, enumerating a number of additional activities, leading to consolidation and the preventing of overlapping responsibilities, and if a proper appropriation for continuing investigations is allowed by the present Legislature, this work will be continued without cessation, until all State functions, coming under the responsibility assigned to us by resolution, have been covered and recommendations made. We will, of course, await final action on remaining measures in the general interest of consolidation, which, however, we presume will be finally disposed of in the next few days.

(Signed) WALTER E. EDGE,
SAMUEL LUDLOW, JR.,
JAMES F. O'MEALIA,
WILLIAM J. KRAFT,
PETER J. MCGINNIS,
ARTHUR M. AGNEW,
Commissioners.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: April 15th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 276 without my approval.

Last year the Legislature determined that when a vacancy occurs among the commissioners in commissioned governed cities, a year before the expiration of the term of office, such vacancy should be filled by election. I am not willing to consent to a change in such law, so recently enacted and permit the remaining commissioners to fill a vacancy for possibly a term of three years. I prefer the law of last year in this respect.

Respectfully,
JAMES F. FIELDER,
[SEAL.] Governor.

Attest:
L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Runyon moved that the message be spread in full upon the Minutes and the bill be laid over as required by the Constitution.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: April 15th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 204, without my approval, because when the Legislature enacted the law for the incorporation of associations not for pecuniary profit, it was its declared intention that the trustees to manage the business of such associations should be elected by the members. I can see no good reason for a change in this respect, whereby trustees shall be chosen, instead of elected, in any method and by any persons as may be provided in the by-laws. It is evidently intended to meet a special case and I am not willing to change a good policy for that purpose.

Respectfully,
JAMES F. FIELDER,
[SEAL.] Governor.

Attest:
L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Runyon moved that the message be spread in full upon the Minutes and the bill be laid over as required by the Constitution.

The following messages were received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and read by the Clerk:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: April 19th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 734, without my approval, for the following reasons:

1. The title and body do not agree. The title refers to dedicated streets not accepted in twenty years, while the body refers to such streets not accepted in ten years.

2. Ten years is too short a period in which to limit a municipality in accepting dedication of streets.

3. There is now sufficient power vested in governing bodies of municipalities to vacate dedicated streets upon public hearings. No additional legislation seems necessary and certainly none should be enacted which deprives the public of the right to be heard.

Respectfully,
JAMES F. FIELDER,
[Seal.] Governor.

Attest:
L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: April 19th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 552, without my approval, because I feel that assessments for borough improvements, if paid by installments, should be fully paid within ten years after the improvements have been made. This bill extends the period for payment to twenty years.

Respectfully,
JAMES F. FIELDER,
[Seal.] Governor.

Attest:
L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: April 19th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 777, without my approval.

The Legislature has shown a positive and definite intent in all recent legislation, to deprive the justices of the peace of jurisdiction in all places where district courts are constituted and I am not willing to sign this bill and thereby change that policy.

Respectfully,

JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

[Seal.]

Attest:

L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
April 19th, 1915.

To the Assembly:

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 554, without my approval, because it is so bad in form and so general and comprehensive in its terms that there are no county road bonds issued for not exceeding thirty years and bearing five per cent. interest, no matter how illegal the issue, which would not be validated thereby. It would even validate such a bond issue which has heretofore been declared illegal by the courts.

Respectfully,

JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

[Seal.]

Attest:

L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: April 19th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 816 without my approval.

I am not satisfied that in practical operation this bill would work well, but if it applied to the police and fire departments only, I would be willing to try it. To provide, however, that when a position under the State, county or city government is abolished, he who occupies such office may be demoted to a lesser office and thus displace the person who occupies the subordinate position, might result in a great hardship to the person holding the lesser office and it might, too, be an unwise interference in the management of office work. If, for instance, the office of Assistant Commissioner of Labor were abolished for reasons of economy, should he be entitled to receive a lesser position and thereby cause some efficient subordinate to lose his office and were positions abolished in the new departments organized under the Economy and Efficiency laws, would not demotions result in great hardship to capable persons who had held office for years and who would be retired because of such demotions?

Respectfully,
JAMES F. FIELDER,
[Seal.] Governor.

L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. Runyon moved that the Governor's message be spread in full upon the Minutes and the bill be laid over as required under the constitution.

Which motion was adopted.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Legislature: April 19th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill 606 without my approval.

The Economy and Efficiency Commission, after an examination of the Labor Department, had this to say in its report to the Legislature of 1914:

"We believe that if an advisory board for this department were established, greater efficiency and economy would result and that the State would thereby have an added check and safeguard now denied, by reason of what might appear a one-man management. The salary of the Commissioner of Labor should be fixed at $4,000 per annum, as we believe the present salary paid is extravagant."

After a further examination of this department, the same Commission reported a plan for its reorganization under the management of an advisory board, being the same as it recommended for other State departments and as since approved by the Legislature and by me in the organization of the Department of Conservation and Development, the Department of Commerce and Navigation and the Department of Health. I see no reason why there should be a departure from that plan in this case, except a political reason, as I have heretofore had occasion to point out. The Republican majority in this Legislature has seen fit to repudiate the plan by passing the substitute for Senate No. 5 (which I have vetoed), for the very apparent reason that, while sacrificing many other officials, the man who holds the office of Commissioner of Labor must be saved. Not content, however, with protecting him for the balance of his term, the same Republican majority proposes to go further and again repudiate the economy and efficiency plan and in a grossly partisan manner, by extending the term of this favored officeholder, because he is of their political faith, for a further period of three years and give him a salary of $6,000. Under the economy and efficiency bills, now laws, the executive heads of other departments can receive no more than $5,000.

The sole object of this bill is to hold the Commissioner of Labor in office. Had the plan of reorganization now proposed, been a proper one, the Commissioner must have known it a year ago when testifying before the Economy and Efficiency Commission and he should then have outlined it. In my judgment it is a subterfuge devised solely for the purpose I have stated. The bill was drafted at a secret night conference held in the private office of the Commissioner of Labor, at which there were present the Commissioner himself, the Speaker of the House and a legislative representative of the labor unions.

It will prove far from economical because it creates seven sub-departments with chief inspectors at their heads, and by section 17 it specifically retains all the inspectors and other employees and appointees in office, and by section 19 gives the Commissioner the widest authority to employ such additional inspectors, expert investigators and advisors, at such compensation and for such period as he may consider necessary. After reading these sections, one cannot help but conclude that section 18 was inserted with the deliberate intention to deceive. It reads:

"All offices and employments now existing in the Department of Labor, not included in the list of offices and employments herein mentioned or authorized, are hereby abolished."

The bill contains intentional evasions of the Civil Service Act, and the following sections are pointed out, especially to those members of Legislature who in their party platform adopted last September said:

"We call the attention of the citizens of New Jersey to the raid upon civil service and efficient government made by the Democratic party of the State in the last few years. When entrusted with the administration of the State we promise to remedy this evil, so that we may have the maximum of efficiency with the minimum of expense."

Section 4 provides that the chief inspector of the Bureau of Inspection shall be in the exempt class of the civil service, while the chief inspectors of all other bureaus are to be in the classified service after the first appointment. There can be no good reason for this distinction. Section 17 expressly provides that any inspector shall be eligible to appointment as chief inspector without further examination, which is directly contrary to the spirit and provisions of the Civil Service Act and is, of course, intended to enable the Commissioner to promote favored inspectors to the position of chief inspector, over those who could pass a better examination.

I call your attention to two fatal blunders in the bill. There is no such act as is recited in section 12 as having been approved April fourth, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, neither is there any such act as is recited in section 14, as having been approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

Respectfully,

[SEAL.] JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: April 20th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill No. 79 without my approval.

Armories can now be used for athletic purposes by pupils of the public schools and for all meetings of the State Board of Agriculture, the State Board of Horticulture and the State Grange and by associations which promote and encourage horticulture and breeding and raising of poultry and pigeons. This bill would allow them to be used for balls, entertainments and other purposes at a nominal charge, while the managers of these affairs could charge an admission and make them profitable ventures. The commanding officer now has the right to permit the use of his armory for the purposes mentioned in the bill and to make a reasonable charge therefor, and this limits the use thereof and at the same time produces a small income which helps pay for the care of the armory. Schoolhouses are not used at night and are better adapted for social center work, educational work and for other public or civic purposes, than armories which are erected for the use of men for drill, for schools of instruction and for recreation and meeting places for the enlisted men. It is now found exceedingly difficult to induce men to enlist in the National Guard, and if the privilege of using their armories and their company rooms without interference, is taken from them, it will be more difficult.

Respectfully,

[SEAL.] JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

Attest:
L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

On motion of Mr. Runyon, the message was ordered spread in full upon the Minutes and the bill laid over as required under the Constitution.

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: April 20th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill 309 without my approval.

If an inspector of poultry is necessary, he should be under the direction of the State Board of Health. The bill does not require the appointee to make report and it places him under no one's supervision or control. It appears to apply not only to poultry consigned to points within the State, but to poultry in transit through the State. No penalty is provided for refusing him permission to inspect, and he is merely authorized to affix a tag to the consignment, showing the result of his inspection, and he is not given the power to condemn and destroy any dead, diseased or unhealthful shipment. He is directed to charge a dollar for inspecting each consignment, whether it be a crate or a car load, and to collect from the consignee who may be located in Philadelphia or Boston. It does not appear whether the fees are for his own use or are to be paid to the State Treasurer.

Respectfully,

[SEAL.] JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

Attest:
L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

On motion of Mr. Runyon, the message was ordered spread in full upon the Minutes and the bill laid over as required under the Constitution.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Assembly: April 20th, 1915.

I return herewith Assembly Bill 567 without my approval.

The Judicial District for the court hereby provided is to include the municipalities of East Newark, Harrison and Kearny. The governing bodies of the two municipalities first named have adopted and sent me resolutions in opposition to the bill on the ground that the court is not needed and that its establishment will unnecessarily increase the present burden of high taxes. The governing body of the third municipality has sent me no resolution on the subject.

Because those directly affected do not appear to desire the court, I withhold my approval to the bill.

Respectfully,

[SEAL.] JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.

Attest:

L. EDWARD HERRMANN,
Secretary to the Governor.

WHEREAS, Certain rumors were circulated and published in many newspapers of this and other States charging members of this House with improper, corrupt and illegal actions in connection with the passage of a bill known as Senate Bill No. 183; and

WHEREAS, Such charges were considered by the members of this House of so serious a nature and reflecting upon the honor and integrity of the House and its membership as to warrant the appointment of a special committee to investigate the truth or falsity of the charges of graft and corruption; and

WHEREAS, Said committee has made report to this House setting forth that there was no foundation in fact for said charges; and

WHEREAS, Said employee having stated under oath that he held the position of stenographer of this House, but was not in reality a stenographer; and

WHEREAS, It is a notorious fact that said employee has not performed the duties of stenographer of this House for which he has received a large portion of the salary prescribed, but on the contrary used his position for the purpose of lobbying for and against bills before this House for consideration and for which he is reputed to have received pay; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That said employee, to wit, Hervey S. Moore, be and is hereby dismissed from the position of stenographer of this House and that no further moneys than that which he has already received shall be paid to him out of the treasury of this State; and be it further

BE IT RESOLVED by the House of Assembly (the Senate concurring):

WHEREAS, The decision of the United States Supreme Court, on March 22d, in the case of The Comptroller General of Georgia against the Central of Georgia Railway Company, has made it doubtful as to whether the suit of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company against the State of New Jersey for the recovery of taxes paid under protest may not result in a judgment against the State of approximately $1,250,000;

AND WHEREAS, Owing to the recent decreases in the revenues of the State, its financial condition is such as to make it our duty not only to take fair and reasonable means to avert the risk of the State being required to pay such a large sum of money, but, also, to adopt all judicious methods of increasing the receipts of the treasury;

AND WHEREAS, It seems probable that a compromise may be made with the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company which would result in the discontinuance of its suit for the return of the above-mentioned taxes, the surrender of its right under the decree of the Court of Chancery to return of an amount now exceeding $100,000, and would put at the disposal of the State the proceeds of the sale of the canal properties and the State's interest therein, amounting to a large sum of money;

AND WHEREAS, The foregoing circumstances are such as to render it advisable that an effort be made by the Legislature to provide a plan for the settlement of the above-mentioned matters in dispute and for the increase of the funds in the State Treasury without resorting to direct taxation;

AND WHEREAS, The report of the Morris Canal Commission and Assembly Bills Nos. 53, 54 and 55, afford a basis for the consideration and formulation of a plan by which the aforesaid ends may be attained;

And Whereas, It appears highly probable that the next Legislature will be able to reach a satisfactory conclusion and settlement;

Be it resolved, That the Attorney-General of New Jersey be requested to apply to the United States Supreme Court for a continuance of the said suit of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company against the State Board of Assessors to the term next ensuing the next term of said court.

At the Speaker's direction, the Clerk read the following proclamation of the Governor:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPT.

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, Certain proposed amendments to the Constitution of this State have been agreed to by two successive Legislatures and should be submitted to the people at a special election; and

WHEREAS, At the last session of the Legislature a bill was passed providing for such special election, which bill is known as chapter three hundred and eighty-five of the laws of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, and the Attorney-General having advised the Secretary of State that grave doubt exists as to whether a valid election can be held thereunder and that said act appears to be practically unworkable and that an attempt to act under it will give rise to uncertainty and opportunities for litigation; and

WHEREAS, In my opinion public necessity requires the convening of the Legislature in Special Session to correct such defects by proper legislation, under which the expressed purpose of two successive Legislatures, may not be defeated, at which Special Session no other subjects need be considered;

Therefore, I, JAMES F. FIELDER, Governor of the State of New Jersey, by virtue of the power vested in me by the Constitution, do convene the Legislature of this State, hereby requiring the Senate and the Members of the General Assembly to meet in their respective chambers at the State House, in the city of

Attest:

THOMAS F. MARTIN,

A message was received from the Governor by the hands of his Secretary, and was read as follows:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
To the Legislature: May 3d, 1915.

Several mistakes having been discovered in the law providing for a special election for submitting to the people the proposed amendments to the Constitution. and the Attorney-General being of the opinion that the law is practically unworkable and that any attempt to act under it will give rise to uncertainty and opportunities for litigation, I have convened you in special session to correct those mistakes and to enact a law which will not be open to criticism and under which the special election can safely be held. So that you may have before you a carefully considered bill, I have referred the matter to the Attorney-General. He advises that the law recently enacted be repealed and a new law passed. I herewith transmit to you a copy of the repealer and of a new bill, both prepared by him, requesting that both be introduced and passed without delay.

A bill passed at your late session, and approved by me, authorizes the appointment of an additional Circuit Court Judge, but you failed to appropriate any money to cover salary. I am informed that the services of a Circuit Judge are immediately necessary to assist in relieving the congested trial calendars in our counties, and I therefore recommend that legislation be enacted to provide the funds from which to pay the salary specified in the law.

Permit me to urge that this Special Session be made a short one. The total number of laws and joint resolutions resulting from your regular session is four hundred and nineteen, as compared with two hundred and seventy-six which make up the laws of last year, and it does not appear to me that we need more legislation on any subject.

Respectfully,
JAMES F. FIELDER,
Governor.
